

Moon Wobble October 2019. Sun 13 degrees Libra square the North Moon Node at 13 degrees in Cancer.

The beginning of this period at the new moon also featured the Sun, Mercury, Venus, and Mars conjunct or right on top of the new moon in Virgo. The theme is Virgo for a bit: both a hard-working and free, elemental force keeping the rhythms of earth and Moon. Perhaps take that last summer trip to swim in the water, touch the earth, climb mountains; and be entangled by nothing. This is Virgo with a heart that's both productive and wild.

The 2019 Autumnal Equinox is September 23rd and the start of the Fall Season as we move into the next cycle of seasons. Maybe a time to wind down a little and discern what is useful and valuable from what is not, separating the wheat from the chaff.

The high energy at the start of this Moon Wobble period seemed to be evident and the upcoming peak starting Sunday, 9/29 will get kicked off with the full moon on Saturday, September 28th.

General suggestions / observations

- This cycle is based on empirical data meaning enough data was observed and recorded to make it possible to suggest attitudes and reactions. Keep in mind that we all have free will and thus results will vary from one individual to another.
- The graph shows the energy high at the beginning of the cycle (not unlike any other astrological aspect) followed by a slow down before it gets strong and again this reflects years of tracking and noting feedback from our many students.
- If you are making a decision during this time you might want to let it set for a day or two then check your decision again to see if it still makes sense. However, you can feel into the ebb and flow and find good times to work on self emotionally in both the low and high points. Impatience, emotion and acts without thinking are common.
- With practice you can also feel when the energy is there to help bring completion to tasks, goals and projects you may be working on.
